As a person who spends much of your time on or near the water, you already know what is normal and what is not, and you are well suited to notice suspicious activities - activities that may indicate threats to our nation's homeland security. We urge you to adopt a heightened sense of sensitivity toward unusual events or individuals you may encounter in or around ports, docks, marinas, riversides, beaches, or waterfront communities.

If you observe suspicious behavior or activity, you should simply note the details and report the suspicious activity using the phone numbers listed. You are not expected to approach or challenge anyone acting in a suspicious manner.

When reporting suspicious activity, try to include as many details as you can, including but not limited to:

S - Size (Jot down the number of people, gender, ages, and physical descriptions)

A - Activity (Describe exactly what they are doing)

L - Location (Provide exact location)

U - Uniform (Describe what they are wearing, including shoes)

T - Time (Provide date, time, and duration of activity)

E - Equipment (Describe vehicle, make, color etc., license plate, camera, guns, etc)

- Vessel Name/Registration
- Photographs
- Video Surveillance
- Unscheduled Deliveries
- Size, Shape, and Description of suspicious packages
- Identification information (Driver's license, TWIC, mariner's document)
- Any other information regardless of how small or unrelated as it may seem.

Contact the U. S. Coast Guard Command Center or the National Response Center at the numbers listed above without delay.
